

Press Release:

Caleb Hires New Director

In operation since 1995, the nonprofit organization Caleb Interfaith Volunteer Caregivers provides much needed services at no-cost to seniors 60 and older to increase their access to healthcare, enhance their independent living skills, and reduce their isolation primarily through transportation and friendly visitation services. It currently serves seniors in the towns of Bethlehem, Carroll, Dalton, Groveton, Jefferson, Lancaster, Littleton, and Whitefield and desires to expand services to other nearby communities in the future. It has an army of well-vetted, compassionate volunteers who work tirelessly to form friendships and change the lives of the Caleb clients they serve. Caleb is a 501(c)(3) and operates solely from the donations of the towns, churches, and individuals who believe in its mission and are most affected by its outreach.

Caleb recently hired Timothy Carignan from Lyman as its new executive director. Tim retired as a Major from the U.S. Army in 2013. He served 20+ years, entering the service as a Private during the Gulf War in the early 90s. Since his retirement from the service, Tim has taught in public school systems and has served on local nonprofit and church leadership boards. He brings leadership know-how and administrative acumen to this well-loved and far-reaching nonprofit organization. He has been married to his wife Bethany for 26 years and they have two adult children, one active duty in the Air Force and the other a missionary teacher in Niger, Africa.

The Caleb office is located in Whitefield, NH in the McIntyre Apartments on Highland Street. For more information on how to prayerfully or financially support Caleb, how to become part of its volunteer team, or to request assistance services for yourself or someone you love, please reach out to them by calling 603-837-9179. You can also email the director at calebcaregivers@gmail.com or the volunteer coordinator, Karen Lebrun, at calebcoordinator@gmail.com. Thank you for considering supporting this local outreach organization.
